

Acknowledgement to Law and Conflict Resolution

Niamh Moloney*

* Professor, Department of Law, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

*Corresponding author. E-mail: Niamhmoloney@mq.edu.au

Received 10 June 2021; Accepted 24 June, 2021; Published 1 July 2021

Editorial

I am pleased to introduce the “International Journal of Law and Conflict Resolution”. The journal is an open access as well as peer-reviewed, that is always ready for instant publication of articles that are related to the concepts of Law and Conflict Resolution. As a part of encouraging the researchers, scientists in the field of law and justice to share their ideas, concepts and their study, the journal publishes in a yearly period. The journal catches the eye of the other authors or researchers or readers with its high quality based papers that have keen ideology on Law and Conflict Resolution fields.

A framework of rules that are created and came into force in order to regulate ones behavior with an accurate matter of longstanding firms is known as Law. In simple form, it is described as a science and art of justice. Laws does vary from country to country, they are analyzed under comparative law. In common law systems, judges make decisions with the knowledge of precedent cases. Without laws, it is hard to imagine our society. As the situations of the people are unique, no one legal system can cover everything. The conflicts resolution in terms of law or legal sector plays a vital role, as by keeping the laws behind, the decisions and solutions are found and solved.

- Law’s scope: The law is of two main forms,
- Public law: It concerns government and society, including constitutional law, administrative law, and criminal law.
- Private law: It deals with legal disputes between individuals and/or organizations in areas such as contracts, property, torts and commercial law.

Functions of Law: Law has various functions that have significant forms with respect to the diversified fields..

The main objective of the Journal is to provide an original information round the globe. Here we publish all types of the Researches that are specifically related to Law and Conflict Resolution, such that the author can easily publish any form of his or her research based on his feasibility. Our mission is to extend the scholarly research articles beyond the academic circles with a view to putting in place one of the largest pools of open access contents by 2025. Our aim is to inform authors of the decision on their manuscripts within two weeks of submission. Following acceptance, a paper will normally be published online after the acceptance. The average time between submission and final decision is 21 days and the average time between acceptance and final publication is 14 days. Once the paper is accepted, it will be published online.

The authors, researchers, scientists are hearty welcomed, to share your ideas or thoughts or studies in regard of the concepts that are relevant to Law and Conflict Resolution. Kindly submit your manuscript at <https://www.globalscienceresearchjournals.org/submit-manuscript.html> or E-mail to your manuscript attachment to our Editorial office at editor@globalscienceresearchjournals.com.