COMMENTARY

The importance of Education starts from our childhood starting at home and education is a lifelong process that will end with our death or perhaps if there is an afterlife, it will also continue there. An uneducated society cannot provide a bright future for our planet. Education plays a vital role in our entire lives and opens the way for all of us to reach our full potential. Education is the means by which we acquire the skills, strategies, knowledge and experience to know, understand and respect the duties we have in our society, families and nation. Therefore, the magnitude of the importance of education in health is large and repetitive. The importance of education in life is that it helps everyone to have a positive view of the world and our society. Education helps us to discover new ideas and to explore new ideas.

Education helps one to acquire knowledge and develop self-confidence in life. It can help you to improve your career and personal growth. An educated person can be a great citizen of the community. It helps you to make the right decisions in life. The modern, developed world and industry run on the wheels of education. In order to survive in a competitive world, we all need education as a leading torch. An illiterate person will never fully realize his responsibilities to each other as human beings and the world at large. As human beings, we must give back to the society in which we live and make it a better place for everyone to live. Proper education teaches a person to think beyond his own interests and helps to develop the ability to make the world a happier and safer place for the next generation.

Distance education, adult education and online education are all additional steps to enhance the value of education. With the growing need for access to quality and affordable education, many top colleges around the world have also introduced graduate and non-graduate study programs as part of their courses offered. Now, not only can one take subject-specific courses online but major degrees like bachelor's and masters can also be taken at his or her own pace. In addition, a large number of degrees have no age and background restrictions. One of the great points of the importance of education today stems from the fact that the various tools and techniques used offer great ways of creating different situations and situations. The university study curriculum includes not only theatre and arts in education but also sports, athletics, public speaking, business, photography, diplomacy, volunteers and much more. With face-to-face education technology, students can use digital development to gain a fuller understanding of their chosen field of study and develop awareness of prevalent issues and participate in its development. A good education does not mean just going to school or college and getting a degree. Trade and commerce in the country will also thrive if its citizens are well educated. Education helps to establish self-reliance and builds self-confidence in them so that they can accomplish difficult tasks. When they receive education, their quality of life improves.
